

Logos' Theatre Arts Department Presents...

On March 26 and 27, Logos middle schoolers will perform two short plays. Both plays will be performed on Friday, March 26 at 6:30 p.m., and Saturday, March 27 at 1 p.m., at Asbury United Methodist Church (340 E. Market Street). Tickets are $3 for adults and $2 for students.

After Hours takes place in a small clothing shop. Late at night two mannequins stretch and relax after a long day of modeling clothing and "ugly" hand bags. Their regular routine is interrupted by two burglars who are set on finding anything in the store of value. While Harry the night guard is walking outside, the mannequins take matters into their own hands to protect the clothing store.

The Old Cookie Shop presents quite the dilemma when poor Nellie O'Grady cannot pay the mortgage on her cookie shop. With her mother sick and business looking down she has no choice but to marry the Evil Mortimer Whiplash who owns the shop and will accept no other payment. But wait, the man who has come to take away the shop is none other than H. Harry Goodwell (the H stands for handsome by the way). Will the cookie shop and everything that is important to Nellie be lost?

Come and enjoy big batches of laughter and students' talents on March 26 or March 27!

Now scheduling Puzzle Parties: Feb.-April '10

A fun new way to celebrate

Looking for a fresh way to add fun and meaning to your family or congregation's celebrations? Invite the Logos Puzzle Party Team to your next event!

Here's what people are saying about the Logos Puzzle Party:

"...presentation was...professional, clear and tasteful...just right for this event"

"...a very special event, thank you!"

"...love the puzzle art!"

"...thank you for my wooden gift puzzle, it's beautiful!"

The "Puzzle" features original artwork by noted illustrator Ophelia Chambliss, colorfully portraying children and the supportive dimensions of community. Parties feature a display-sized 3' x 5' six piece puzzle and a fun demonstration that involves party guests. Hosts receive a unique hand-crafted wooden version of the puzzle as a gift. Puzzle teams can include staff, volunteers, even children and their families.

No two puzzle parties are alike. They are designed to fit your interests, setting, and celebration. A few examples of recent and upcoming parties:

- dinner party for friends and neighbors
- special occasion party featuring hors d'oeuvres
- a Sunday School hour gathering
- a special "missions & ministry" Sunday service

Recently Logos Academy's Puzzle Party was named by Central Penn Business Journal as a finalist in its Non-Profit Innovation Awards for Brand Identity/Unique Marketing. We give the glory to God...and the opportunity to you!
